One thing to remember if you are involved in an accident is DO NOT ADMIT LIABILITY even if you think you are at fault. If any persons are injured in the accident, you must contact the police. Depending on the extent of the injuries you may also need to contact an ambulance. If the police do not attend the scene of the accident, you can call the Police assistance line on 131 444. You only need to call the police to the scene of the accident in the following circumstances;

If someone is injured

If either or all vehicles require towing

If you suspect the other driver is under the influence of drugs or alcohol

If you suspect the other driver is unlicensed

If the other driver is difficult, abusive or refuses to exchange personal details

You will need the following details from the other party;
